Source File Agreement

I, _____, (Distributor hereafter) agree to the following conditions:

1. Use of Materials: Open documents (source material) received from DAHON will be used solely to create modifications in accordance with DAHON's guidelines, to implement language changes and to maintain the material updates (but not add or remove new features or functions) ("maintenance").
2. Ownership: Distributor acknowledges that the source material constitutes of the intellectual property of DAHON. All original artwork including text, graphics, components, layouts, logos, structure or arrangements, or other components of any materials released to the Distributor is the property of DAHON and will not be used for any other purpose than the promotion of the DAHON brand.
3. Modifications: All modifications require written approval by DAHON, and are not to be disclosed to any third party agents. If for any reason there is a violation of the conditions stated in this agreement, DAHON has the right to reclaim - and ask for the removal of - all materials from the Distributor without limitation.
